

F-Response to be bundled with X-Ways Software Technology AG's X-Ways Forensics

TAMPA, FL - June 2008

Agile Risk Management LLC announces today that an agreement has been reached with X-Ways Software Technology AG to allow the reselling and bundling of Agile's F-Response Remote Forensics software with X-Ways Forensics, X-Ways's premier computer forensic application.

X-Ways Forensics (www.x-ways.com) is an advanced computer forensics application and the flagship product of X-Ways Software Technology AG. X-Ways Forensics has been designed from the ground up to provide efficient, low cost, and fast computer forensics capabilities. F-Response(www.f-response.com) is Agile Risk Management LLC's patent pending solution to remote computer forensics and e-discovery. F-Response perfectly complements X-Ways Forensics by providing direct raw read-only physical disk access to remote physical disks.

"We are very pleased to be working with Stefan Fleischmann and his staff at X-Ways, we believe firmly that the mission of F-Response is to provide remote physical drive access for use with the very best tools on the market, making this relationship an important part of achieving that mission." stated Matthew Shannon Principal of Agile Risk Management, LLC.
